

Zepto E-Commerce Inventory Analysis

SQL Data Analyst Portfolio Project

By: Aishwarya V S

Data Analyst | SQL | Power BI | Python

---

Project Summary

This project simulates a real-world e-commerce inventory analysis workflow using SQL. The dataset represents product listings scraped from Zepto's inventory system and includes pricing, discounts, stock status, and product metadata.

The objective was to:

- Build a structured SQL database from raw CSV data
- Perform exploratory data analysis (EDA)
- Clean inconsistent pricing data
- Generate business-driven insights using SQL queries

This project demonstrates practical SQL skills aligned with retail and quick-commerce analytics use cases.

Dataset Overview

- Source: Kaggle (Zepto Inventory Dataset)
- Total Records: 3,732 SKUs
- In-stock Products: 3,279
- Out-of-stock Products: 453
- Categories Covered: 14 major product categories
(Fruits & Vegetables, Beverages, Dairy, Packaged Food, Personal Care, etc.)

Each row represents a unique SKU (Stock Keeping Unit), reflecting real-world retail complexity where products may appear multiple times with variations in size, packaging, or discount.

Tools & Technologies Used

- PostgreSQL
- pgAdmin
- SQL (Joins, Aggregations, Grouping, Filtering, Ranking)

- CSV Data Handling

Database Design

Created a structured relational table with appropriate data types:

```
CREATE TABLE zepto ( sku_id SERIAL PRIMARY KEY, category VARCHAR(120),
  name VARCHAR(150) NOT NULL, mrp NUMERIC(8,2), discountPercent NUMERIC(5,2), availableQuantity INTEGER, discountedSellingPrice NUMERIC(8,2), weightInGms INTEGER,
  outOfStock BOOLEAN,
  quantity INTEGER
);
```

---

Exploratory Data Analysis (EDA)

Key exploration steps:

- Counted total records in dataset
- Identified distinct product categories
- Checked for NULL values
- Analyzed stock availability
- Identified products appearing under multiple SKUs

Observation:

- Majority of products were available in stock (87% availability)
  - Several products appeared multiple times due to SKU-level variations (realistic e-commerce scenario)

Data Cleaning

1 Removed Invalid Pricing Rows

Products where MRP = 0 were deleted.

DELETE FROM zepto
WHERE mrp = 0;

2 Converted Prices from Paise to Rupees

Original data stored price in paise. Converted to rupees for readability and business reporting.

UPDATE zepto

SET mrp = mrp / 100.0, discountedSellingPrice = discountedSellingPrice / 100.0;

This step ensured pricing consistency for further financial analysis.

---

Business Insights Derived

1. Top Discounted Products

Identified products offering the highest discount percentages.

2. High-MRP Products Out of Stock

Detected premium products currently unavailable — potential revenue opportunity.

3. Revenue Estimation by Category

Calculated potential revenue using:

discountedSellingPrice × availableQuantity

Helped identify high-performing product categories.

4. Value-for-Money Analysis

Calculated price per gram to identify economical product options.

5. High-Value Categories

Ranked categories based on:

- Average discount percentage
  - Inventory weight contribution
  - Revenue potential

Key Analytical Takeaways

✓ 87% of products are currently in stock

✓ Inventory spans 14 diversified categories

- ✓ SKU duplication reflects realistic retail product listing strategies
  - ✓ Pricing standardization (paise → rupees) significantly improved clarity
  - ✓ SQL aggregations helped simulate real retail business decisions

Business Impact Simulation

If this were a real retail analytics role, insights from this analysis could help:

- Optimize pricing strategy
  - Identify revenue leakage due to stock-outs
  - Promote high-discount SKUs
  - Improve inventory planning
  - Identify value-driven product segments

Skills Demonstrated

- SQL Database Design
  - Data Cleaning & Transformation
  - Exploratory Data Analysis
  - Business KPI Derivation
  - Retail & Inventory Analytics
  - Analytical Thinking

Why This Project Matters

This project replicates real-world tasks performed by:

- Retail Data Analysts
- E-commerce Analysts
- Inventory Analysts
- Business Intelligence Analysts

It showcases end-to-end workflow:

Raw Data → Database → Cleaning → Analysis → Business Insights
